ORDER:

The Government have examined the question of enabling the appointment as Minor Irrigation Overseers of candidates who qualify themselves in the New Overseers' Course of for two years introduced in the Engineering College a few years ago. The question was considered with reference to the parallel proposal to enable the appointment of holders of the New Overseer Diploma as Overseers and Supervisors in the Public Works Department Under the orders in G.O.No.2000, Development dated 2-5-51 and 1136 education dated 26-4-51, this course has been converted into the L.C.E. Course of 3 years with effect from the academic year 1951-52. It has also been decided that candidates who have already obtained diploma in the New Overseers' Course for two years and who are now in profession as apprentices or employees may be permitted to qualify for the L.C.E. diploma by passing the L.C.E. examination to be held in 1952 or later and the to obtain the L.C.E. diploma after 4 years (i.e. 2 years in the Overseers' Course and 2 years in the profession, instead of 3 years in the class and one year in the profession prescribed for L.C.E. students). In these circumstances, the question of prescribing the New Overseer Diploma as an alternative qualification for appointment as Supervisors in the Public Works Department and prescribing a period of training for them in the Public Works Department has been dropped. As regards providing employment to such of the New Overseer Diploma holders as are not desirous of switching on to the L.C.E. course, it has been suggested that they may be rendered eligible for appointment as Overseers and Draftsman, III Grade, on Rs.70-2-90-3-120. In such cases, no practical training is to be prescribed. The proposal is under the consideration of the Government. In the circumstances explained above, only a few diploma-holders in the New Oversears' Course for two years are likely to be available for appointing as Minor Irrigation Overseers. The Government consider that it is unnecessary to amend the Madras Minor Irrigation Subordinate Service Rules to provide for the appointment of these few men as Minor Irrigation Overseers. If any of the existing diploma-holders apply for appointment as Minor Irrigation Overseers, the question of relaxing the rule in his favour will be considered by the Government. The Board of Revenue is requested to issue necessary instructions to the Collectors.
